

teaching an old dog new tricks

If the thought of tying up and whipping your partner has become your idea of the usual Saturday night, now is the time to consider adding some unusual play activities and equipment to your command of kink.

Special care must be taken with these activities, which run the gamut from messy to life-threatening. But this shouldn't deter you, as the precautions necessary to make it a night to remember (and not fifteen to twenty behind bars) are as practical as those for safely operating a motor vehicle.

As easy as it is to cover your submissive with affections, it is equally easy to cover him with wax or liquid latex. While your love may have no bounds, it is best to confine your play with these materials to an area covered with a plastic tarp. This will allow you to protect the things you really care about, like the newly varnished floor or grandmother's antique quilt.

You will also want to take some measures to ensure the comfort of your bottom. Wax and liquid latex will both remove body hair faster than you can say Britney Spears, and most people are not enthusiastic about the prospect of having their hair ripped out by the roots, unless it is around the bikini-line area. Clearly, the only option is to begin your work on a smooth surface, so take out your razor and get to it.

If shaving is out of the question, you can try coating his skin with Lubriderm and then have him wear a body stocking or
